

Position: Part-time Curriculum Writer

Time Frame: September 2022 - June 2023 (10 months)

Compensation: $25/hour (20 hours/week)

Basic Function:

The Freelance Curriculum Writer is responsible for the development of Farm to School curricular resources for the CT Family & Consumer Science resource website being developed by Yellow Farmhouse Education Center.

Duties & Responsibilities include:

- Lesson plan and resource development
- Identification of relevant, high-quality, open source resources
- Organizing, editing, and revision of existing Yellow Farmhouse curricular resources
- Regular communication with Project Manager
- Other duties as assigned

Required Qualifications:

- Teaching experience in secondary FCS/Culinary classroom
- Bachelor's Degree or relevant experience in Education, Environmental Studies, Agricultural Science, Food Studies, Nutrition, or related field
- Experience with lesson plan development and curriculum writing
- Strong knowledge of Farm to School topics including local sourcing, agricultural systems, ecology, soil health, and food justice
- A passion for social justice and culturally-responsive teaching
- Fluency with digital tools including but not limited to Google suite

Applicants who can only work remotely will be considered.

To apply:

Please send a cover letter, resume, and an example lesson plan to info@yellowfarmhouse.org. Qualified applicants will be required to complete a performance task and interview.

